

Willow's Weekly Review

Friday 24th November 2017

This week Willow class enjoyed their brilliant trip to the National Space Centre in Leicester. The children were incredibly well behaved, polite and brilliant representatives of Bourn Primary Academy. They thoroughly enjoyed the bus journey; chatting with their friends and spotting things outside of the window! I have been told that the rocket workshop was lots of fun and the planetarium was incredible! Thank you for your donations and support to allow such wonderful educational trips to go ahead. I'd also like to thank the parent helpers who came along and a huge thank you to Mrs Davies who saved the day by driving at such short notice!

Have a lovely weekend,
Miss Newns

Curriculum News

Christmas play rehearsals are now in full swing! Some children have been going out in the afternoons to practise with Mrs Page whilst others have been busy practising and learning the songs in the classroom. Willow class definitely have the X Factor! In maths the children have continued their learning on subtraction and they have been using the part whole model to find different subtraction number sentences. Soon they will be able to write 8 different number sentences from the 3 numbers in the part whole model. In English we have been thinking about the suffix 'ed' and writing verbs in the past tense! The children also wrote brilliant recounts of their class trip! I was impressed by all the sandwich sentences that the class managed to include in their recounts! Soon we will be writing letters to Santa and writing a description of him.

I was so impressed with all of the children's poems for their home learning this week! It was lovely to see such a range of poetry.

The children enjoyed sharing their poems with the rest of the class and I was extremely impressed with the amount of children that were able to recite their poems by heart!

We thoroughly enjoyed listening to all the children who performed at the poetry recital.

Home Learning

Your child's home learning this week is to snuggle up on the sofa or in bed and to read their favourite book. Perhaps you could take a picture and stick it in their home learning folder!
